5 Signs Your Membership Idea Is Strong

Most people skip this part. Don't.

People are already paying for something adjacent.

If there's no existing market — even an imperfect one — it's harder to build. Proven demand matters.

More green flags

- You can name 10 real people who would pay for this today
- There's a clear outcome — not just access to content
- You get the same questions over and over from your audience
- The idea feels almost too specific — that's a green flag

3 steps to your first member

1. Answer: who is it for, and what do they get on day one?
2. Set up a simple page with a clear join link and a price
3. Tell ten people personally — not just a social post

Ready to build yours?

If 3 or more of these are true, your idea is ready.

Stop planning. Start building.
