Aspirational names

Champion, Visionary, Elite

Speak to who someone wants to become — not just what they get. People pay to see themselves as that person.

Audience-specific names

Student, Solo, Family

Reduce decision fatigue — people self-select instantly. You don't have to explain the difference.

Community names

Founders Circle, Insiders Club

Create identity and belonging. Members stay because of who they are in your community — not just what they access.

Outcome names

Explorer → Achiever → Master

Give members a path to follow. Tap into the desire for progress — and give them something to work toward.

Don't just label your tiers.

Name them like they matter. Because they do.
